Student Counseling Center

Most of your time at Davidson will probably be great, but college is a time of many challenges and changes. You or your friends may face surprisingly difficult challenges along the way from increased academic expectations to living with an unusual roommate. Some students will have family problems, grief experiences, depression, eating disorders or learning disabilities. This one hour class explores the fact that these issues are part of any community and discusses the resources available at Davidson to address them effectively, particularly at the Student Counseling Center.
